

Minnesota Missing and Murdered Indigenous Relatives Office

What is MMIR?

Missing and Murdered Indigenous Relatives (MMIR) is an epidemic of violence experienced by Indigenous people for generations.

Although American Indian women and girls make up just 1% of the state's population, from 2010 through 2018, 8% of all murdered women and girls in Minnesota were American Indian. From 27 to 54 American Indian women and girls in Minnesota were missing in any given month from 2012 to 2020.

Our Vision

Reduce and end violence against Indigenous women and all Indigenous relatives in Minnesota.

Contact Us

Scan our QR code to visit our website and learn more about MMIR and the office.

445 Minnesota Street, Suite 2300
St. Paul, MN 55101
mmiroffice.dps@state.mn.us
651-201-7344

Our Services

CASE SUPPORT

Support and guide families during a law enforcement investigation.

TRAININGS

Present educational lectures to youth, families and the community.

AWARENESS

Help develop and distribute missing persons materials.

REFERRALS

Connect with victim services and professionals.

DATA ANALYSIS

Provide investigative support through crime and data analysis.

Our Team

Our office is led by Director Juliet Rudie, who has more than 20 years of experience in law enforcement. MMIR staff include a:

- Community Planner, who does awareness and events.
- Violence Prevention Coordinator, who provides trainings and presentations.
- Intelligence Specialist, who provides data analysis of state-wide information and provides assistance to law enforcement during active missing persons or homicide cases.

