

Myah Wells

MMIR Office Advisory Council Member

My name is Myah Wells and I am Mdewakanton Dakota from Prairie Island in Minnesota. I graduated from Loyola University Chicago in May 2022, with a B.S. in Psychology, a B.A. in Spanish, a minor in Arabic Language and Culture, and a minor in Psychology of Crime and Justice. I currently live in Virginia right outside of Washington D.C. while I pursue my Master's in Forensic and Legal Psychology at Marymount University.

I just recently started a job as the Operations + Development Lead for The Kwek Society; "Kwek" means "woman" in Potawatomi. I am excited to be a part of The Kwek Society as they fight to end period poverty among Indigenous girls by providing supplies, information, and spreading awareness. I have been researching and presenting on the MMIR crisis in our country since high school with the intention of spreading more awareness and bringing more attention to this problem, as well as specific cases.

I am very honored to be a part of the Advisory Council for the MMIR Office and I look forward to what is to come.
